Our Expectations

At Woodlands Primary School, we believe that building a positive relationship between home and school through focused, informative, and constructive communication, plays an important role in the education of our students.

This guide is intended to support that relationship by outlining communication and conduct expectations at school and during school activities, that align with the Department of Education's policy.

Parents and Carers

There may be times during your child's schooling when additional support is needed or matters arise. We will support you and your child to productively address concerns, and we encourage you to raise concerns as early as possible.

Your child's classroom teacher will be your first point of contact. Email communication can be used for short, non-urgent and positive forms of communication. However, for more complex situations, parents should make an appointment for an in-person meeting, so that any matters can be given the time and attention that they deserve.

Our staff will meet with you, by appointment, between the hours of 8am and 4pm, depending on availability.

Parents should:

- Email the teacher to request a meeting.
- Make an appointment to discuss your child's progress, or other matters.
- Specify what you would like to discuss, so staff can prepare for the meeting.
- Ensure communications are polite and respectful.

Staff

Staff communication processes include:

- Acknowledging and responding to parent communications as soon as possible; usually within 5 business days
- Hosting a parent information session at the beginning of the year
- Scheduling a parent-teacher interview annually at a date to be advised
- Sending regular updates(beginning, middle and end of each term) on classroom events, learning focus and news
- Notifying parents about issues or ongoing concerns
- Listening to and considering parent feedback

Compass Communications

Woodlands Primary School uses the Compass platform for communication with parents. All classroom and year group and school communications are sent through Compass. Please ensure the school is kept up to date with your current contact details.

After enrolment and your child's first day of attendance, you will be sent log in details from Compass to enable access.

Compass is used to communicate in the following ways:

- SMS to notify parents and carers of an unexplained absence or late arrival of their child. Parents can reply to provide an explanation through the Compass app or by calling the school office on 9416 9800.
- School activities are found in the online Compass calendar. For events that require payment or permission, a notification will be sent to parents and carers through Compass. Permission slips and payments are completed on Compass.
- Principal Updates are sent to families and staff through Compass. Messages contain information on events, celebrations, changes, teaching and learning programs, student achievement and policies.
- Staff communications with parents and carers.

Together we make a difference. Student learning is strengthened when school staff, parents and carers are actively and positively involved in their education. Parents, carers, and visitors to our school support safety by ensuring communication and conduct at school and school activities is respectful.

Every student, staff member, parent or carer has the right to feel safe and be safe at our schools.

For more information please visit: <https://www.education.wa.edu.au/connect-and-respect>. Connect and Respect is a suite of resources to assist school communities in setting shared and respectful expectations. These will enable us to continue to work together in the best interests of our children.

We look forward to building a positive relationship between home and school to work together with you to support your child to reach their potential.

Connect and Respect Expectations

Our schools are committed to providing quality education to all students in a safe, inclusive and caring learning environment. We value working together with parents and families as critical partners in student learning outcomes.

Schools draw on the diversity and strengths of local communities to create opportunities to work collaboratively and set directions for students. Building mutually respectful relationships with each local community is fundamental to this.

A school community contains a wide variety of individuals and groups who strive to work together to educate students to become confident, well-educated young people; prepared to lead happy, successful lives and make contributions to local and global communities.

School staff will engage with families to understand the interests, personalities and needs of their children. All students need access to a quality education within safe and secure learning environments, and with the right supports to progress and achieve.

There may be times during your child's schooling when additional support is needed, or issues arise. Your school will support you and your child to productively resolve these issues and we encourage you to raise concerns as early as possible.

Shared and respectful expectations and values will enable us to work together in the best interests of our children.

All students need access to a quality education within safe and secure learning environments.

What parents and carers can expect from our schools

Communication between you and your school is an important part of your child's education. School communities thrive on open communication wherein staff, students, parents and carers have opportunities to share good news, discuss issues and maintain an open dialogue.

Schools are made up of hard-working and dedicated professionals who will listen, care and respond to your concerns and work with you to resolve complaints. We have found over time even the most challenging of circumstances can be worked through. You can expect some of the following from your school:

- regular communication through school approved channels
- reports on your child's progress and achievement
- celebration of your child's achievements
- notification of any serious single issue or ongoing issues concerning your child
- scheduled opportunities to meet with the classroom teacher
- other opportunities to meet with the teacher, by appointment
- updates about important developments in your child's class
- notifications or invitations to school events
- opportunities to provide respectful and productive feedback.

What parents and carers should not expect from our schools

Our staff have families and personal lives too, and like all professionals, work at their best when they have a quality work-life balance. Parents and carers should not expect:

- school staff to return calls after work hours
- emails to be answered in the evenings or weekends
- access to teachers' private phone numbers or emails
- staff to meet with parents and carers, without an appointment, during a school day
- to be allowed on a school site if you have harassed or been aggressive towards school staff.

You should contact your child's school if:

- you have concerns about your child's academic or social progress
- medical issues arise or diagnosis changes
- there are changes in family circumstances
- there are safety issues or changes in behaviour at home
- social issues arise that could impact the safety and welfare of students at the school
- you want to make or reschedule an appointment.

Communication that interferes with teaching and learning

- speaking to staff disrespectfully or aggressively, especially in front of your child or other students
- expecting to meet with staff during the school day without an appointment
- visiting the classroom during the teacher's preparation time before school
- using social media platforms inappropriately and disrespectfully
- malicious or judgmental gossip
- By everyone playing a part in providing safe, positive learning environments and opportunities for our students, we enable them to be the best they can be.

Communication methods

Electronic communication, such as email, is appropriate for short, non-urgent and positive forms of communication. It is not appropriate for more complex or emotional situations. In these cases, parents should request a face-to-face meeting so that issues can be given the time and attention they deserve. If in doubt, speak to your school.

Concerns and complaints

Contact your school as early as possible if you have concerns. If you are not sure who to speak to, you can start with your child's teacher. For some matters, it may be appropriate to talk directly to your child's year coordinator, school administration staff or principal.

If you have approached your child's school but haven't been able to resolve the issue, refer to our complaints process to explore your options education.wa.edu.au/complaints.

Shared and respectful expectations and values will enable us to work together in the best interests of our children.

Connect and Respect Engagement

Expectations that promote learning, wellbeing and safety in all public schools in Western Australia.

Together we make a difference. We welcome parents and other members of our diverse community into schools across Western Australia. Student learning is strengthened when school staff, parents and carers are actively and positively involved in their education.

We all share a responsibility for providing a safe, supportive and productive environment, free from bullying, harassment, discrimination and violence.

Parents and carers and other visitors to schools support safety by ensuring communication and conduct at school and school activities is respectful. Every student, staff member, parent or carer has the right to feel safe and be safe at our schools.
